Alape brings more than 100 years of manufacturing experience to the creation of each piece of bathroom design. Since pioneering glassed steel enamelling for basins in the 1920s, Alape have gone on to become a world leader in the development of this technology. Every sink in the Alape line is pressed individually from a seamless sheet of steel before being fired with a rich glass enamel glazing known as Ceramostahl. This advanced composite material delivers a deep, perfectly balanced finish. The final result is a truly superior product crafted to the highest level of German engineering precision. Durable and beautiful, Alape creates designs that will stand the test of time and be admired for many years to come.

UNISONO

Developed in partnership with Sieger Design, the Unisono basin captivates with its puristic form. The slender geometric design epitomises the unique properties of Alape's glassed steel technology - visually delicate yet exceedingly strong. Unisono's elegant lines offer perfect clarity while evoking a beautifully emotional perspective.
